

u/skillity

the heart and center of our community.
The fully responsive Webapp, is the gateway to
our marketplace,
where you can offer or find the Skills,
Knowledge and experience you're passionate about.

Take care the organisational tasks,
as you never did before.

u/skillity's intuitive interface, makes it super easy to set up your Workshop in Minutes. As soon as your course is online, customers can purchase tickets. Those Tickets will be distributed by us, all you have to do, is check your Mail, and you'll know who and how many will participate. Afterwards our highly professional and trustworthy payment solution Stripe will transfer the Money within 24h to your account.

You see, with u/skillity you gain much more time to focus on the more essential things. So why not spend the time you saved with someone worthy like your friends and family, or even learn a new skill yourself.

But what happens, if you do get sick or any other reason occurs and you're not able to conduct your lesson? Well don't worry, we take care of contacting your participants and no problems will arise. So that everybody is happy and is looking forward to the next time you'll share your skills.

Find the skills you need, all in one place.

Our very existent is based on experience. It's what evolves and improves us, from the day we're born. We made it our task, to make it easier, to reach and absorb these skills and knowledge. To give you the opportunity to share what you're passionate about.

To deepen the community of people who embrace knowledge and to give chances to people who might not had them before.

Let us connect, inspire and embrace.
